Save up to 90% with NetHandicap

NetHandicap.com is different from traditional software based handicap solutions where you need to buy a personal computer with lots of memory, have people on staff that understand computer technology, invest time and energy on maintenance and upgrades for the software and complicated training on all of the above. NetHandicap.com eliminates those hidden costs.

No Large Capital Expense

NetHandicap.com minimizes the need for large capital expenditures for software. We do this by offering our service as a subscription based product over the Internet. Implementation for a club can be achieved in less than one week and for large associations with more than 100 clubs, usually less than 30 days to launch.

Customization is what NetHandicap.com is all about

We know that your club, association, business or organization is unique. No two organizations look the same and that is your identity. NetHandicap.com was designed to customize its look and feel to match yours. From dynamic banners on each page, to home page billboards, your choice of site colors, you are in control of your message to your constituents. Set up is managed by our staff so you only need to provide the information and NetHandicap staff will do the rest. No expertise from your staff is required. That is our philosophy.

Club Community with NetHandicap

Best of both worlds: Online and in the Pro Shop

All handicap services are not created equal. Never has such a catch phrase meant more than after a golfer witnesses the NetHandicap Club Community module.

Club Events managed by NetHandicap

Communicating and managing the club atmosphere is what NetHandicap is all about. Players involved in club events need a central repository of dates, event types and a board to share postings. Here you will find everything you need to not only sign up for an event, but keep tuned on other members participating and more.

It's not just a calendar; it's a specially designed golf event calendar which includes all the information a member needs to determine the appropriate fit to their schedule.

Custom Tee Time Invitations – Made Easy

Have you ever wanted to organize a golf game with some friends but did not want to get on the phone and call all your friends one-by-one to invite them? Well we have come up with a great fix to that. Simply input the information about the game including location, name of course, time of play and invite your friends by either inputting their email addresses individually or through a drop down tab for members of the club. After the golfer receives the invitation through the mail, they can then reply with an "Accept" or "Decline". You will then be notified of the results in a single screen.

Private Message and Discussion Forums

Rounding out the communication tools is our peer-to-peer messaging set of screens which allows you to discuss any topic with others in your club privately. As with all features you find in NetHandicap, everything is interlaced with all aspects of the site.

- Designed to be a private club mail system
- Bold mail notification on navigation pages
- Send, store and delete private mail.
- Discussion forums for sharing information to many members at once.

Members Directory and Peer Review

In a golf club, one of the most important aspects is to share, review and validate one another's scores, rounds and trends. This is the basis of peer review as defined by the USGA and other governing organizations. With NetHandicap a member can review all other members USGA handicap report with last 20 rounds, trend report, all historical rounds posted and an integrated peer-to-peer private mail button.

Kiosk or Online - it's your choice

Golfers have two possible ways to input their scores; either through any standard web-based browser or with a NetHandicap web-based and touch screen kiosk located in the green grass club. Both solutions are fully integrated with one another. A golfer can post a round on the kiosk and then review the rounds posted from home over the Internet or post through the Internet and review on Kiosk in the pro shop. It's that flexible.

Golf Club and Committee Management

Committee and club administrators even have their own NetHandicap site where they can manage the club anywhere, anytime utilizing a standard web based browser and secure authentication username and passwords. From the Committee Administration Site, the administrators can create and manage events, send private messages (to various levels of constitutes such as other committee members or player members), send community messages, run reports, and much more.

Clubs owned by Management Companies

If your club is associated with other clubs such as a management company then NetHandicap is the perfect choice. Our system associates clubs in a hierarchy methodology and the features such as peer review can be available to all members of the series of clubs in your group or as detailed as an individual club. Reports and other features are also designed to be linked to those associated clubs.
